UCPAAE 5:2 [1906]
ALPHABET.

The characters used in this work, in spelling Navaho words, are given below, with the value assigned to each character.

VOWELS.

a has the sound of English a in father.
ä has the sound of English a in hat. has the sound of English a in what.
à has the sound of English e in they. In some connections it varies to the sound of English e in their.
ë has the sound of English e in then.
i has the sound of English i in marine.
i has the sound of English i in tin.
o has the sound of English o in bone.
u has the sound of English u in rude.
ai unmarked, or accented on the i (áí), is a diphthong having the sound of English i in bind. When it is accented on the a (ái), or has a diaeresis (aï), it is pronounced as two vowels.
ow has the sound of English ow in how. It is heard mostly in meaningless syllables.
A vowel followed by an inverted comma (´) is aspirated, or pronounced with a peculiar force which cannot be well represented by adding the letter h.

p. 23

CONSONANTS.

b has the sound of English b in bat.
d has the sound of English d in day.
d represents a strongly aspirated dental sonant. It is often interchanged with d.

A TALE OF KININAÉKAI: 1 ACCOUNTING FOR THE ORIGIN OF CERTAIN PRAYERS AND SONGS OF THE NIGHT CHANT.
INTRODUCTION.

In my work entitled "The Night Chant, A Navaho Ceremony," I give translations of four myths (or, more properly, of three myths and a variant) that belong to the ceremony described. These may be called the great or fundamental myths of the ceremony; but, in addition, there is a great number of minor myths, accounting for the origin of certain minor rites, and of different groups of songs of sequence and other matters. We may never reasonably hope for the collection and translation of all these myths.

The following tale accounts for the origin of one of these groups of songs, namely the Tsénitsihogan Bigi'n or songs of the Red Rock House, and perhaps for the origin of some of the ritual observances.

In "The Night Chant" I say, when describing the rites of the second day: "When the party returns to the medicine lodge, the patient sits in the west, for he has still further treatment to undergo. * * * The chanter applies pollen to the essential parts of the patient, puts some in his or her mouth, takes a pinch of it on his own tongue, and applies a little of it to the top of his own head. These applications of pollen are all timed to coincide with certain words of the accompanying song." Song F that follows is what may be called a pollen song, for it is sung when pollen is applied. I explain, in notes, where and when different applications of pollen are made as the singing progresses. I cannot say if there are other pollen songs; but probably there are.

THE LEGEND.

In the ancient days, there were four songs which you had to sing if you would enter the White House. The first was sung when you were ascending the cliff; the second, when you entered the first doorway; the third, when you walked around inside the house; and the fourth, when you were prepared to leave. You climbed up from the ground to the house on a rainbow. All this was in the old days. You cannot climb that way now. In those days, Hayolkál Askí, Dawn Boy, went there on a rainbow.

In the ancient days, there lived in this house a chief of the house. There were four rooms and four doors, and there were sentinels at each door. At the first door there were two big lightnings, one on each side; at the second door there were two bears; at the third door there were two red-headed snakes, which could charm you from afar, before you got near them; and at the fourth door there were two rattlesnakes.

Of course few people ever visited the place, for if the visitor were not a holy one some of these sentinels would surely kill him. They were vigilant. The chief of the house and his subordinates had these songs, by the power of which they could enter and quiet the sentinels, who always showed signs of anger when any one approached them.

Dawn Boy got leave from Hastséyalti 4 to go to White House. Hastséyalti instructed him how to get there, taught him the prayers and songs he must know, and told him what sacrifices he must make. These must include fragments of turquoise, white shell, halioit, and cannal-coal, besides destsí corn-pollen and larkspur pollen, and were to be tied up in different bags before he started. "When you get into the plain, as far off as the people of White House can see you, begin to sing one of these songs and a rainbow will form on which you may walk," said Hastséyalti.

Dawn Boy then set forth on his journey. When he got to Dzildanístíni, or Reclining Mountain, he got his first view of the White House, and there he began to sing. Reclining Mountain is, today, far from White House; you cannot see one place from the other; but in the ancient days the world was smaller than it is now, and the people of whom I speak were holy ones. When he had finished the song a rainbow appeared, as Hastséyalti had promised, spanning the land from Reclining Mountain to White House. As he walked on the rainbow, a great wind began to

p. 27
There was a black kethawn at each side of the door and a curtain hung in the doorway. When he entered the house, he walked on a trail of daylight and he sprinkled pollen on the trail. The people within became aware of the presence of a stranger and looked up. Hastséyalti and Hastséhogan, the Talking God and the House God, who were the chief gods there, looked angrily at him, and one said: "Who is this stranger that enters our house unbidden? Is he one of the People on the Earth? Such have never dared to enter this place before." Dawn Boy replied: "It is not for nothing that I come here. See! I have brought gifts for you. I hope to find friends here." Then he showed the precious things he had brought and sang this song:

SONG A. (Free translation.)

1. Where my kindred dwell, there I wander.
2. Child of the White Corn am I, there I wander.
3. The Red Rock House, there I wander.
4. Where dark kethawns are at the doorway, there I wander.
5. With the pollen of dawn upon my trail. There I wander.
6. At the yuni, the striped cotton hangs with pollen. There I wander.
7. Going around with it. There I wander.
8. Taking another, I depart with it. With it I wander.
9. In the house of long life, there I wander.
10. In the house of happiness, there I wander.
11. Beauty before me, with it I wander.
12. Beauty behind me, with it I wander.

Then he gave them the sacred things he had brought with him, and Hastséyalti said it was well, that he was welcome to remain, and they asked him what he wanted. "I want many things," he replied. "I have brought you pieces of precious stones and shells; these I wish wrought into beads and strung into ornaments, like those I see hanging abundantly on your walls. I wish domestic animals of all kinds, corn of all kinds, and plants of all kinds. I wish good and beautiful black clouds, good and beautiful thunder storms, good and beautiful gentle showers, and good and beautiful black fogs."

The chiefs thanked him for his gifts, and asked him whose song it was that enabled him to come to White House,—who it was that taught him to him. But he had been warned by his informant not to reveal this, so he answered: "No one told me; I composed my songs myself. They are my own songs." "What is your name?" they asked. "I am Hayolkál. Askí, Dawn Boy," he replied. "It is well," said the holy ones. "Since you know our songs you are welcome to come here; but rarely does any one visit us, for there are but two outside of our dwelling who know our songs. One is Hastséyalti of Tsé`intyel, 8 in this cañon, and the other is Hastséyalti of Tse`yahódílyılı in Tse`gíhe. 10

Then Hastséhogan sent for a sacred buckskin, and one son and one daughter of each of the two gods, Hastséyalti and Hastséhogan spread the skin for Dawn Boy to stand on. Thus do we now, as the gods did then. 11 As he stood, Hastséhogan taught Dawn Boy the White House prayer, as follows:

PRAYER No. 1. (Free translation.)
I.

1. In Kininaékai. 12
2. In the house made of dawn.
3. In the story made of dawn.
4. On the trail of dawn.
5. O, Talking God!
6. His feet, my feet, restore (or heal).
7. His limbs, my limbs, restore.
8. His body, my body, restore.
9. His mind, my mind, restore.
10. His voice, my voice, restore.
11. His plumes, my plumes, restore.
12. With beauty before him, with beauty before me.
13. With beauty behind him, with beauty behind me.
14. With beauty above him, with beauty above me.
15. With beauty below him, with beauty below me.
16. With beauty around him, with beauty around me.
17. With pollen beautiful in his voice, with pollen beautiful in my voice.
18. It is finished in beauty.
19. It is finished in beauty.

II.

2. In the house of evening light.
3. From the story made of evening light.
4. On the trail of evening light.
5. O, House God!

(The rest as in I, except that lines 12 and 13 are transposed.)

p. 30

III.

5. O, White Corn Boy!
(The rest as in I.)

IV.

5. O, Yellow Corn Girl!
(The rest as in II.)

V.

5. O, Pollen Boy!
(The rest as in I.)

VI.
5. O, Grasshopper Girl!
(The rest as in II, with "It is finished in beauty" four times.)

When they had done, Hastséhogan said: "You have learned the prayer well; you have said it properly and you have done right in all things. Now you shall have what you want." They gave him good and beautiful soft goods of all kinds, all kinds of good and beautiful domestic animals, wild animals, corn of all colors, black clouds, black mists, male rains, female rains, lightning, plants, and pollen.

After he had said the six prayers (or six parts of a prayer) as he had been taught, he prayed in his mind that on his homeward journey he might have good pollen above him, below him, before him, behind him, and all around him; that he might have good pollen in his voice. The holy ones said: "We promise you all this. Now you may go."

As he started he began to sing this song:
SONG B. (Free translation.)

1. To the house of my kindred, there I return.
2. Child of the yellow corn am I.
3. To the Red Rock House, there I return.
4. Where the blue kethawns are by the doorway, there I return.
5. The pollen of evening light on my trail, there I return.

He continued to sing this until he got about 400 paces from White House, when he crossed a hill and began to sing the following song:
SONG C. (Free translation.)

Held in my hand. (Four times. Prelude.)
1. Now with it Dawn Boy am I. Held in my hand.
3. From the doorway with dark kethawns. Held in my hand.
5. At the yuni, the striped cotton hangs with the pollen. Held in my hand.
7. Taking another, I walk out with it. Held in my hand.
8. I walk home with it. Held in my hand.
I.
11. I arrive home with it. Held in my hand.
13. With beauty before me. Held in my hand.
15. With beauty above me. Held in my hand.
16. With beauty below me. Held in my hand.
17. With beauty all around me. Held in my hand.

II.
3. From the doorway with the blue kethawns. Held in my hand.
5. At the yuni, the haliotis shell hangs with pollen. Held in my hand.
(The rest as in I, except that 14 and 15 and also 16 and 17 change places.)

By the time he had finished this song he was back at Dzildanístíni, whence he started on his quest and from which he could see Depéntsa and the hills around Tse’gíhi. Then he began to think about his home, and he sang another song.
SONG D (Free translation.)
There it looms up, it looms up, it looms up, it looms up. (Prelude.)
1. The mountain of emergence looms up.
2. The mountain of dawn looms up.
3. The mountain of white corn looms up.
4. The mountain of all soft goods looms up.
5. The mountain of rain looms up.
6. The mountain of pollen looms up.
7. The mountain of grasshoppers looms up.
8. The field of my kindred looms up.

He thought it was yet a long way to his home, so he sat down to eat some food he had brought with him. Then he sang another song, one of the Bezínyasin or Food Songs, as follows:

SONG E. (Free translation.)
Ína hwié! my child, I am about to eat. (Three times. Prelude.)
1. Now Hastséyalti. His food I am about to eat.
2. The pollen of dawn. His food I am about to eat.
3. Much soft goods. His food I am about to eat.
4. Abundant hard goods. His food I am about to eat.
5. Beauty lying before him. His food I am about to eat.
7. Beauty lying above him. His food I am about to eat.
8. Beauty lying below him. His food I am about to eat.
9. Beauty all around him. His food I am about to eat.
10. In old age wandering. I am about to eat.
11. On the trail of beauty. I am about to eat.

Ína hwié! my child. I am about to eat. Kolagane. (Finale.)

When he had finished his meal, he sang another of the Bezínyasin, a song sung in these days when pollen was administered in the rites.
SONG F. (Free translation.)

Ína hwié! my grandchild, I have eaten. (Three times. Prelude.)
1. Hastséhogan. His food I have eaten.
2. The pollen of evening. His food I have eaten.
3. Much soft goods. His food I have eaten.
4. Abundant hard goods. His food I have eaten.
5. Beauty lying behind him. His food I have eaten.
6. Beauty lying before him. His food I have eaten.
7. Beauty lying above him. His food I have eaten.
8. Beauty lying below him. His food I have eaten.
9. Beauty lying all around him. His food I have eaten.
10. In old age wandering. I have eaten.
11. On the trail of beauty. I have eaten.

Ína hwié! my grandchild. I have eaten. Kolagane. (Finale.)

Dawn Boy how crossed a valley to Tse`gíhi, and as he crossed it he sang another song the burden of which was "Hozógo nasá, in a beautiful manner I walk."

When he got to the edge of the cañon he looked across it, and there he saw his mother, his father, his sisters, his brothers, and all his relations. They espied him from afar at the same time, and they said: "Hither comes our elder brother. Hither comes our younger brother," etc., and Hastséyalti, who first taught him the songs and sent him forth on his journey, said: "Sitsówe nada`, my grandson has returned home." Then his father, who had gone inside to spread a sacred buckskin for him, came out again.

Dawn Boy sang a song when he was at the door of the house, the burden of which was, "Sagán si níya, I approach my home," and after he entered he sang "Sagán si nidá, in my house I sit down."

Hastséyalti entered the house after him, and then all the neighbors crowded in and sat down. The old man and the old woman said: "My son, tell us your story;" and Hastséyalti said: "Tell us the story of the holy place you visited, where no stranger ever dared to venture before." Dawn Boy bade them sing a song and promised when they were done singing he would tell his story. The father then sang a song the burden of which was "Diiá ti sîlnaholne se, this person will tell me a story."

When the song was finished, Dawn Boy said: "My grandfather, my mother, my father (etc.), what you said was true. It was in truth a holy place that I visited. I did not at first believe that it was such; but now I know that it is." Then he related all his adventures as they have been already told.

After he had related his story, they made preparations to have a ceremony for him. They made him stand on a sacred buckskin, even as the people of White House had done. As he stood on the footprints, drawn in pollen, he said this prayer:
PRAYER No. 2. (Free translation.)
1. Dawn Boy am I, I say.
2. Soft goods of all kinds, my moccasins, I say.

Footnotes

25:1 Kininaékai is White House in Chelly Cañon, Arizona.

26:3 For a description of White House see The Night Chant, p. 89.

26:4 Perhaps I should say a Hastséyalti, for there are many. This may have been the special Hastséyalti of Red Rock House. Compare The Night Chant, p. 9, and Navaho Legends, Mem. of Am. Folk-Lore Society, Vol. 5, p. 224.

27:5 Kethawns are small sticks or cigarettes used by Navahoes as sacrifices to the gods. Consult The Night Chant, p. 36, and Navaho Legends, p. 42.

27:6 Ni`nahoká dine` or People on the Earth is a name applied to all Indians, as distinguished from white men, and from holy people or deities.

28:7 Lines 16 and 17, which end so many Navaho songs, are essentially a prayer for a happy old age.

28:8 See The Night Chant, p. 311, and pl. V, fig. D.

28:9 See The Night Chant, p. 171.

28:11 Thus says the story, but this part of the ceremony is usually omitted of late, because sacred buckskins are so hard to get. Information as to sacred buckskins will be found in Navaho Legends, p. 24.

29:12 The upper story of White House is painted white; the lower story is the natural yellow of yellow sandstone. The Navahoes do not think this the result of a mere whim, but that it is intentional and symbolic. White is the color of the east in Navaho symbolism, and they suppose the upper story was sacred to Hastséyalti, or Talking God, who was a god of dawn and of the east. Yellow is the symbolic color of the west, and they suppose the lower story belonged to Hastséhogan, or House God, who was a god of the west and of the evening twilight.

31:13 Yuni is the place of honor reserved for guests and the head of the house behind the fire opposite the door.

35:14 Lines 10 and 11 of Prayer appear to be modern growths, even if the whole cultus and myth is not modern. Yet something may be said to the contrary. The word which I translate horses (Lin) refers also to any sort of a pet or domestic animal, and the word for sheep (Debé) originally meant the wild Rocky Mountain sheep or bighorn. It is now employed to designate the domestic sheep, while the bighorn is now called tsé`ta debé or sheep-among-rocks.

35:15 Male rain (nìltsa baká) means a shower accompanied by thunder and lightning. Female rain (nìltsa baád) means a shower without electric display. See The Night Chant, p. 6.

36:16 Meaningless

36:17 A black snake guards the door.
40:18 Meaningless.

40:19 Unusual form, probably a contraction with a meaningless syllable.

42:20 Meaningless.

42:21 The usual form is dzil, not dzil.

43:22 This line was omitted in rendering the song to the Editor in 1906.

43:23 Meaningless.

44:23a Meaningless.

45:24 The suffix -go in all the words of this prayer has the force "of this sort" I am, my moccasins are, etc.

THE STORY OF BEKOTSIDI.

Békotsïdi and Sun Bearer (Tsínihanoai) made all the animals while they were sitting together in the same room,— Békotsïdi in the north, Tsínihanoai in the south. While the former was making a horse, the latter was making an antelope, and this is why the antelope is so much like a horse. It has a mane and no small back toes as the deer has.

Both of the gods sang while they were at work, and this was the song that Békotsïdi sang to bless all that he was making. It was the first song which he sang at this work.

1. Now Békotsïdi, that am I. For them I make.
2. Now child of Day Bearer am I. For them I make.
3. Now Day Bearer's beam of blue. For them I make.
4. Shines on my feet and your feet too. For them I make.
5. Horses of all kinds now increase. For them I make.
6. At my finger's tips and yours. For them I make.
7. Beasts of all kinds now increase. For them I make.
8. The bluebirds now increase. For them I make.
9. Soft goods of all kinds now increase. For them I make.
10. Now with the pollen they increase. For them I make.
11. Increasing now, they will last forever. For them I make.
12. In old age wandering on the trail of beauty. For them I make.
13. To form them fair, for them I labor. For them I make.

After he had made the animals, he sang another song the refrain of which is "Kat hadzídila`, now they are made." As the animals began to breed, he sang another song appropriate to this, and when they were multiplying abundantly, he sang a fourth song, the burden of which was Keanádildzïsi, which means, they are multiplying.

While Day Bearer was making the horse and domestic sheep, Békotsïdi was making antelope and bighorn. While Day Bearer was making a goat, Békotsïdi was making a cow. While the former was making a deer, the latter was making an elk. Then Day Bearer began to make a mule and Bekotsidi began to make a donkey, and the former said: "I shall stop with this; I shall make no more." But Békotsïdi said, "I shall continue my work." Then he made the jack-rabbit, the small rabbit, the prairie-dog, the wood-rat, and many more animals. 25

No pictures were drawn of Bekotsïdi and no one masquerades in his form. His appearance is not known. 26

Four songs and no more belong to this tale. If you want a fine horse, sing the second and third songs, say a prayer, and you will get the horse. In your prayer specify the color and kind of a horse you desire., It will come to you from the house of Day Bearer.

The name Békotsïdi signifies "He tries to catch it." He got his name while he was out hunting. An indecent story is told to account for this.

The first iron-gray horse was made of turquoise, the first red (sorrel) horse of red stone (carnelian ?), the first black horse of cannel coal, the first white horse of white shell, and the first piebald horse of haliotis shell. So horses are now, according to their color, called after the different substances of which the first horses were made, Thus the Navahoes speak of dolï'zi lin. (turquoise or gray horse), bástsïli lin (red stone or sorrel horse), bászïni lin (cannel coal or black horse), yolkaí lin (haliotis or spotted horse).

The hoofs of the first horse were made of tse' hadáthonige, or mirage stone, a stone on which paints are ground. Such stones are added to earth from six sacred mountains to form their most potent medicine. A shaman will not treat a diseased horse without this. It is used, too, when they pray for increase of stock and increase of wealth.

REFRAIN.

Baanaslési en an etc.
59:25 Hatáli Natlóí does not know in what order these small animals were made, and does not know if Bekotsidi made snakes and fish.

59:26 Hatáli Natlóí does not know where he lives; but thinks he dwells either in the sky or in Estsánatlehi’s house in the western ocean.

60:27 The author was uncertain about this word. An informant has suggested dantingo, "several paths."

PROTECTION SONG.

(To be sung on going into battle.)

I.

Now, Slayer of the Alien Gods, among men am I.
Now among the alien gods with weapons of magic am I.
Rubbed with the summits of the mountains,
Now among the alien gods with weapons of magic am I.
Now upon the beautiful trail of old age,
Now among the alien gods with weapons of magic am I.

II.

Now, Offspring of the Water, among men am I.
Now among the alien gods with weapons of magic am I.
Rubbed with the water of the summits,
Now among the alien gods with weapons of magic am I.
Now upon the beautiful trail of old age,
Now among the alien gods with weapons of magic am I.

III.

Now, Lightning of the Thunder, among men am I.
Now among the alien gods with weapons of magic am I.
Rubbed with the summit of the sky,
Now among the alien gods with weapons of magic am I.
Now upon the beautiful trail of old age,
Now among the alien gods with weapons of magic am I.

IV.

Now, Altsodoniglehi, among men am I.
Now among the alien gods with weapons of magic am I.
Rubbed with the summits of the earth,
Now among the alien gods with weapons of magic am I.
Now upon the beautiful trail of old age,
Now among the alien gods with weapons of magic am I.
